

To all members,

Happy New Year! The PBIA board will be having an envelope stuffing party this coming weekend 1/7/18. We just wanted to make everyone aware of it. Your membership info might be getting out a little later than normal. We have a new team that works with our membership director. It's tough to put all that burden on just one person since they have a family, job and other responsibilities. Please be patient with us as we go through this transition. We are trying to work smarter not harder.

Thanks,

Your PBIA Membership team
